

We used to get network programming on C-Band satellite. It was taken away from us because local stations wanted viewers. For more than 2 months now Channel 5 (CBS) has been unwatchable...they say they are upgrading transmission facilities. Now Channel 2 (NBC) has had a very bad picture for 2 weeks. The only local station we can watch is ABC. Network stations are available on C-Band but they would cost $8. a month (for NBC and CBS). We could always get local programming in our rural area but now we can't. We are being poorly served by local stations.
